

Kurt L. Young

Born: Dec. 29, 1921
Huntington, Utah

Wife: Eloise Ruth Johnson, born in Gilroy, California

Kurt attended North Emery High School, Snow High School, Snow College, Carbon College, and San Jose State College.

He was in the Utah National Guard, the U.S. Army, and the U.S. Air Force.

He was a business analyst and procurement analyst supervisor with the Department of the Air Force; an industrial specialist with the Small Business Administration; and director of the Utah Area Small Business Administration.

Kurt has had a wide experience in church assignments: General Secretary of the Adult Aaronic Priesthood; General Secretary of the Aaronic Priesthood; Elders Quorum President; High Priest Group Leader; Ward Finance Clerk; Sunday School President; High Councilor, Bishop; and temple ordinance worker.

Kurt has served in numerous community positions: member of the Bloomington Community Council; Bloomington Service Area Board of Directors; Bloomington Improvement Board of Directors; member of the Deputy Sheriffs Merit Commission; member of the Washington County Library Board of Directors; chairman of the Utah State Board of Mental Health; member of the Governor's Board of Inter-Government Advisors; elected official of the Washington County Board of County Commissioners; and director of the board of the Dixie-Escalante Rural Electric Association.

Kurt and Eloise four children and seven grandchildren.